Deal of the Week: Volcano Time in Costa Rica

Deep in Costa Rica's Central Valley, a lil' lodge is offering a big deal: Stay four nights at the Lost Iguana Resort and Spa and they'll doc your bill by 20 percent (which, if you do the math, works out to about $150 per room per night). Every one of its 42 rooms overlooks Arenal volcano, one of the most active in the world. Explore the surrounding 120 acres of private rain forest by day and lava-watch from your balcony by night—on a clear evening, you can see tiny dots of orange skittering down Arenal's side.

THE CATCH: The deal applies to travel through December 15, 2009, but May marks the start of Arenal's seven-month rainy season. Go now.
